Integrated Crisis Management
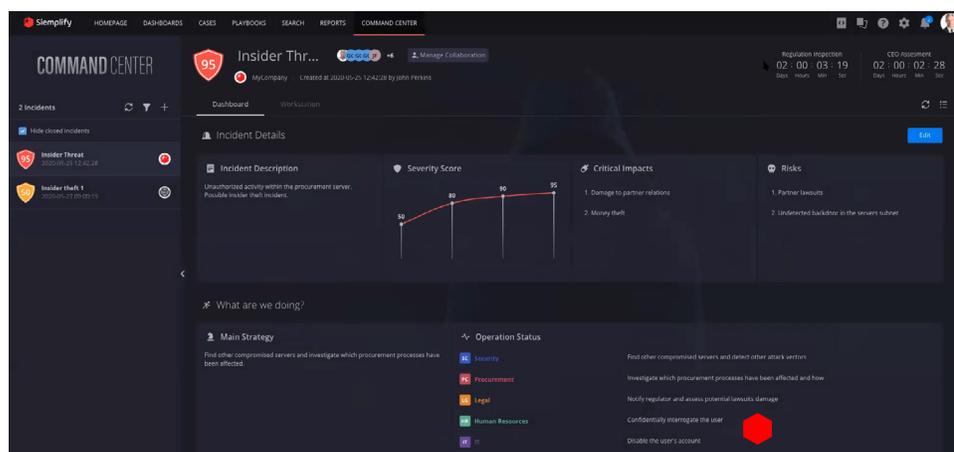

Coordinate Your Response to a Crisis Across the Organization

Siemplify

Siemplify Command Center

When your organization experiences a serious security incident, you must act quickly, decisively and in coordination with stakeholders inside and outside the SOC.

Integrated Crisis Management powered by the Siemplify Command Center manages cross-functional actions, responsibilities, and messaging from a single secure location, streamlining the entire response and recovery process while ensuring nothing gets overlooked.

Capabilities:

- Centralize plans, tasks, and status updates

- Track and manage all actions taken on an incident

- Collaborate externally and with customers

- Real-time dashboard and reporting

Key Benefits:

Consolidate all incident data and prioritize actions internally and externally from a single, secure location

Securely invite people from inside and outside the SOC to a Command Center incident allowing all responsible parties to document their plans and actions during a crisis. External users (e.g. MSSP customers) can be invited with permission granted to a specific case.

Drive frequent action-oriented meetings and chat sessions to keep everyone on the same page

Track important decisions, assessments, and related tasks speeding up the time required for the frequent meetings and chat sessions typical during an incident.

Deliver 100% visibility with automated reporting and a single dashboard

Automated, real-time dashboard enables stakeholders, including executive management, to maintain continuous visibility into all incident response and recovery actions. Pinpoint potential issues before they become obstacles to a successful incident resolution.

FedEx

"Siemplify is the force multiplier that allows us to be leaner and meaner"

Jovan Scott, SOC Manager

Try It For Free

Browse trial options now at:
www.siemplify.co/pricing

Siemplify

The Siemplify Command Center Difference

Unlike SOAR products that might offer basic security centric collaboration capabilities, only Siemplify provides wide-scale crisis management from issue identification through ultimate resolution, maintaining one source of truth in a secure environment.

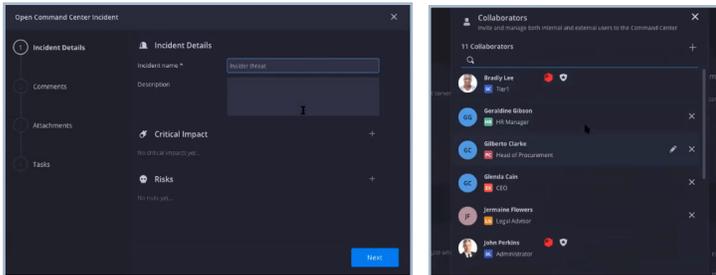

Escalate an alert to an incident and rally a cross-functional response team in minutes

Ensure everyone involved in the recovery and response to the incident is included in the team with secure access to the Command Center.

Plan, track and monitor actions

Avoid confusion and misunderstandings by documenting all important plans and discussion items in a comprehensive Workstation area.
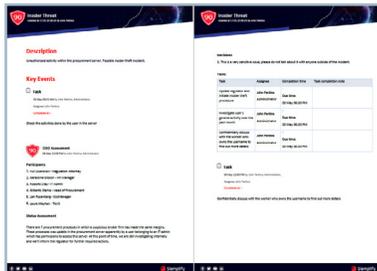

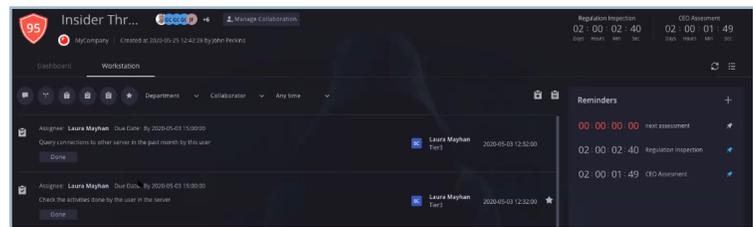

Rapidly report on status

Instantly generate and share reports that include all relevant incident information such as key events, status assessment, participants, and decisions made.

Set reminders and timers

Keep the whole team engaged throughout the life of the incident with a stopwatch that is set to align with key milestones like a CEO assessment meeting or regulator inspection due dates.

The Bottom Line

The key advantage of having an integrated crisis management capability for your team is the ability to ensure everyone involved with a response, especially external-facing staff and customers, are aligned and communicating until successful resolution. We know no one wants to think about a successful breach but you have to be prepared to handle one if it does happen. With the Siemplify Command Center at your fingertips, you will be ready.

For more information visit us at www.siemplify.co